"You're sure good medicine, Gloss," he said. "Yes, we are gettin' quite a nice plot of ground cleared, and I look for quite a nice yield this year, both in corn and taters. Trappin' don't seem to promise much for this winter, though. The noise and clatter of Halibut's mill seems to be drivin' the mink and rats across the bay."

"Can't we make him take the mill away from Lee Creek?" asked the girl. "I hate the sound of it. Its noise drowns the song of the birds and its smoke hides the blue of the sky between the trees. What right had he to put that mill there, uncle?"

"Well, he owns a strip of bush on Totherside," explained McTavish. "It comes right up to Lee Creek. So you see the mill is on Halibut's own property."

"Oh, look, uncle," cried the girl, "there's some black squirrels crossing the corn-stubble now—five of them. I do believe aunty would relish a bit of stewed squirrel. I meant to tell Boy to shoot one or two for her this mornin', but he was gone before I was up."

Joe, the setter, broke from the thicket and loped across the cornfield. All summer he had acted as custodian of the field, and even now the squirrels stood in mortal terror of him, and the crows cursed him in guttural croaks from the tops of tall trees beyond the danger-line.

As the squirrels took to a lone hickory in the centre of the field, Boy McTavish came quickly around the corner of the house. He stood the clumsy hand-made fork he carried up against the lean-to, and mopped his face with his sleeve.

"Whew!" he whistled, "but it's turned out a fine day after all. Never knowed Injun summer to hang on so long. Hope it keeps up, dad, and we'll get the corn all husked yet before trappin' time. Suppose we have a bee and a dance at night, same as we did at the wood-bee? Declute is goin' to have a loggin'-bee soon.

"Hello, Gloss," he called, catching sight of the girl, "How's ma this mornin?"

"Better and hungry for squirrel," she answered, her eyes on the treed blacks.

She ran into the house and returned with a rifle. She handed big McTavish the powder horn and, bracing her feet, cocked the gun.

"How far?" she asked, throwing it to her shoulder with a practiced hand.

"Sixty yards, anyway," answered Big McTavish.

"Nigher eighty," asserted Boy. "Too far Gloss, you'll miss sure."

A gleam of mischief shone in the gray eye sighted along the brown barrel. Then the rifle cracked, and a black ball detached itself from the hickory and went swinging down to earth in tiny circles. The dog gave a low whine and came bounding forward, the squirrel in his mouth, and allowed Boy to take it from him.

"Right between the eyes," said Boy proudly.

Big McTavish reloaded the rifle and handed it back to Gloss. His face was wrinkled in a grin of mingled surprise and admiration.

"Neither you nor me could do any better, Boy," he said hesitatingly by way of admission.

"The one on the left next," motioned the girl, and the rifle spoke once more.

"Missed," gasped the man, "can't always make a bulls-eye, Glossie."

"Missed nuthin," cried Boy; "there he comes now."

The second squirrel spun about on the limb a couple of times, then went crashing through the branches.

"As Bill Paisley would say, 'that's remarkable shootin',' " chuckled McTavish. "That distance is well over eighty yards, else I don't know distance.'

"Nearer a hundred, I should jurge," contended Boy. "She's got all the rest of the McTavishe's beat, dad."

"Try another, Gloss," suggested McTavish, placing the cap on the nipple of the rifle with clumsy fingers.

"I thought maybe two would be enough," said the girl.

She took the rifle once again and glanced at Boy.

"Oh, go on, Gloss," he encouraged, "only one more. Eact it, I'm a bit hungry for corn-ed squirrel myself."

"And I'm thinkin' I wouldn't turn up my nose at a plateful of stewed squirrel either," seconded the father.

"All right, just one more shot, then, hit or miss," laughed Gloss. "See that chaps two ears and part of his head stickin' up above the knot? I'll take him this time, I guess, though it's no easy shot."

She fired, and the squirrel dropped from the limb. Another white from Joe proclaimed it a clean kill.

Big McTavish, without so much as a word, took the gun inside. Boy held the animals up by their bushy tails and the girl who was watching him said:

"You ain't carin' much to see the blacks killed ever since the time you had Tommy for a pet, are you Boy?"

"Well, I don't know as I'm carin' much one way or t'other,' he answered slowly. "Tommy was a cute little beggar, but he wasn't really a black. He was a gray squirrel. Greys are gentler and make much better pets than blacks. Tom Peeler one time had a black for a pet, and used him mighty good for two years. But one day that black pretended he wanted Tom to play with him and tickle him as he was used to doing, and it gave him a bad bite. No, the blacks are too cross for pets."

"Boy," said the girl suddenly, "I meant to tell you before—old Injun Noah was tellin' me yesterday that there's a big gray fox who makes his home on the Point. Noah says he's the biggest silver-gray he ever saw. Say's he's as big as a timber-wolf. But he is so cunnin' nobody can get a shot at him."

"Well," smiled the boy, "I guess we needn't go after that feller, and you needn't worry about one little silver-gray. Just you wait awhile and you'll know what I mean."

He winked mysteriously, and Gloss laughed. Then her face grew grave.

"That man Watson was over here this mornin', Boy," she said. "You know what he wanted and you know how he'd get it. Well, I guess him and uncle had words. I was hidin' in a bunch of willows at the spring when he was goin' back, and when he passed me he was swearin' awful."

"Was he ridin' toward the trail or going toward Totherside?" asked Boy, his face darkening.

"I watched him cross the creek, and when he got across he rode toward the schoolhouse."

Boy turned away. Then he paused and looked at the girl.

"Boy," she said wistfully, "I wish we didn't have no school in this place. I wish Simpson would go away."

"Why?" he asked quickly.

Slowly her eyes sank and her bosom heaved as her breath came in quick gasps.

He reached out and caught her, and for the first time in their young lives the girl struggled in his arms. He let her go, and stood back wondering. She looked at him and smiled. Her face was pale, and her long lashes did not conceal a look of dumb entreaty.

"Gloss——" he commenced.

"Boy," she whispered, "we're built for chums, and chums we'll always be. But the old rompin' days are over now. Boy, you mustn't take me — you mustn't hold me like that again. We ain't boy and girl no more."

He bent and picked up the squirrels. When he stood up again she had gone.

"'We ain't boy and girl no more,'" he repeated.

May Have Women V.C.'s

Lady Sydenham Says It Is A Step Forward

English women are delighted at the announcement that the Victoria Cross may in future be awarded to women as well as men, says Lady Sydenham.

"The V. C. is the most coveted of distinctions awarded for brave deeds on the battlefield, and nothing should be done which should impair its value and make it fall into disregard.

"The V. C. must remain the reward of but a few, or like so many decorations which have been distributed broadcast it will become a joke.

"Some women — those who drove ambulances for instance — were in the firing line. If their deeds have been as brave as those of soldiers, if, without bias, their claims to the V.C. are judged as good, then it is only fair that they should get it."

British Settlers in Mexico

Calgary Officer Has Three Battalions On Million Acre Estate

That General Critchley, well known in Canadian military circles, has recruited and taken into Mexico three battalions of British troops and settled them on a 1,000,000 acre estate, and that he has four fully-equipped air squadrons under his command, is the news that has reached Calgary from an authoritative source. These troops, who are primarily British settlers, were recruited by the General and his staff in different parts of the British Isles and Canada, and are under the command of the General and his brother, Major H. C. Critchley, both of Calgary. To cover the recruiting and transportation expenses of these troops the British government provided $1,500,000. Several local officers were asked to accompany the expedition as officers.

No Present Chance Of Cheaper Food

Prof. G. I. Christie of Purdue University Reviews Agricultural Situation in U. S.

In a statement with regard to the agricultural situation Prof. G. I. Christie of Purdue University, who is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, says: "The people of the United States are demanding automobiles, musical instruments, jewelry, fine clothes and recreation more than they wish food. These people are willing to pay high prices for such articles that laboring men engaged in the manufacture of these materials may be paid wages two, three and five times as great as the farmer can afford to pay.

"Cheap land and cheap labor have gone," continues Professor Christie, "and so the last of cheap food has been seen. From now on consumers must pay the price that allows the farmer a fair return for his labor and his investment." A conference of the members of the agricultural staff of Purdue University was held to consider phases of the present agricultural situation. Many reports received from the various counties in the state are alarming and show an unsettled condition.

The statement concludes: "Food is absolutely necessary—more than a hundred millions of people in the United States must be fed, while in addition, many millions in Europe must have food from American farms —people of the cities must realize that farmers must have a fair price for their products. Cheap land and cheap labor have gone and so the last of cheap food has been seen. From now on consumers must pay a price that will give a fair return for the farmer's labor and also for his investment. Under the conditions, if wheat was worth $2.20 per bushel in 1917, the crop of 1920 should bring not less than $3.

"If corn was worth eighty cents in 1914, the 1920 crop should return $1.75 to $2 per bushel. Prices for other crops, for live stock, dairy and poultry, should be increased accordingly. Food production should be maintained, but this can only be hoped for when farmers are assured of reasonable prices. The situation demands the serious and careful consideration of all the people. The farmer should go ahead and do the best possible under the conditions."

Junior Farmer A Big Factor

Boys and Girls Do Their Part In Empire Building

Some persons, perhaps, may look upon boys' and girls' club work as being of some worth, but are not particularly impressed with its value, nor optimistic about its possibilities. Probably a lack of definite knowledge of the extent of such work is the reason. The following extract from President Willis E. Johnson's inauguration address at Brookings, S. D., recently, discloses the fact that the boys' and girls' club work alone has attained such proportions as to be a matter of state pride. It shows that boys and girls, when given the chance can play their part in Empire building.

The boys and girls in the pig clubs of South Dakota produced last year over one million dollars' worth of pure-bred registered pigs. It was some work to furnish the money and the little pigs for such an undertaking, and this was only one project of a single department of the division of extension. A million dollars' worth of pigs—better than a million dollars' worth of pure-bred pigs produced, sold and kept, for the most part, within the community where they were raised; best of all, a multiplied million dollar investment of a study, thought, ambition, interest in farming, sucess and worthwhile work of boys and girls—surely that was some investment.

Again it is estimated that 125,000 children of Chicago will have truck gardens this year, according to figures compiled by Dudley Grant Hayes, head of school extension work in that city.

Low Production And High Wages

Production Has Not Increased in Proportion to Wage Advances

An exchange says: "Higher wages should mean high production; low production and high wages cannot exist together." The truth of this statement may be questioned because much of our present difficulty is due to the fact that production has not increased in proportion to wage advances. But the end is not yet. Buildings are not being erected, homes are not being built, railways are not being constructed, and in many parts farmers are refusing to assume the risk of food production because they have to pay so much higher wages for so much less work. All of which goes to prove that "low production and high wages cannot exist together."

Lease Tar Sands On Athabasca

More Than 1,900 Acres Are Granted To General Lindsay

Nineteen hundred and twenty acres of tar sand rights in the province of Alberta have been leased to Gen. William Lindsay, upon specified terms and conditions. From the tar sands of Alberta—which are known to exist by billions of tons along the Athabasca River—it is estimated that great quantities of gasoline, kerosene, naptha, bitumen, tar, lubricating and fuel oils can be obtained. Representations were made to the department of the interior by Gen. Lindsay that as a result of the investigation and research which has been conducted for him and his associates, a successful process appears to have been evolved for extraction from the tar sands, on a commercial basis, of the oil, bitumen and other hydro-carbons which they contain.

The lease of tar sand rights has therefore been granted to General Lindsay to permit a thorough test to be made of the process mentioned.

Ranching in Baffin Land

Moving the Line of Production Nine Degrees Nearer the Pole

Mr. Stefansson is going into the ranching business in Baffin Land. He has been granted a thirty year lease of the southern half of the island, as range for a reindeer herd. That is one government grazing lease for which there seem to be no rivals in the field, and which is not therefore likely to figure as the text for parliamentary speeches and campaign literature.

Hitherto the Fort Vermillion settlement in the Peace River Valley—north of latitude 58— has been the farthest north recognized meat-producing district in Canada. Mr. Stefansson is moving the line of production nine degrees nearer the pole; roughly speaking a thousand miles. If he is right, his success will demonstrate that—so far as climate and seed are concerned—the whole mainland of Canada, clear up to the Arctic ocean, can be turned to account for the production of beef or venison on a commercial scale.— Edmonton Bulletin.

"I am afraid you will come to want," said the mother to a visiting young man. "I have come to want already," was the reply. "I want your daughter."

He who praises men and flatters women has many friends

Where Pontius Pilate Reigned

Colonel Storrs, Graduate of Cambridge, is New Governor Of Jerusalem

The office of governor of Jerusalem once occupied by Pontius Pilate, is now held by Col. Ronald Storrs, a graduate of Cambridge University, and son of the Dean of Rochester College, England.

His task is one to test the administrative ability of any man. Jerusalem is a city of disunions, where, whatever may come of the future, for the moment, Zionists and Arabs are passionately divided, and to steer a just path between them and induce them to join him on that path is thankless work.

It is to that task, however, that he chiefly devotes himself. Twice a week he has meetings of his favorite pro-Jerusalem society, when French, Italians, British, Americans, Rabbis, Zionists, leaders, commercial men of standing and others who are in any way prominnent in the life of the city are brought together and in the course of debate, led to see that they have in common a single citizenship. His motto as governor is, 'unify and be friends."

Colonel Storrs was one of the prime movers in the establishment of an independent Arab kingdom. He is 38 years old.

Lenine Menaces Britain

Would Incite Terror Reign, Is Winston Churchill's Charge

The Russian Soviet Government, through Nikolai Lenine, seeks "to start the British nation off on that same career of revolutionary violence which has made Russia such a jolly place to live in," Winston Churchill, minister of war, declared in an article published in the London Evening News, answering a report by a British labor delegation which visited Russia and a letter dedicated to the British people by Lenine.

Should the Soviet system be established in England, the war minister believes that not only would freedom of the press and freedom of thought be swept away, but the English labor leaders themselves would "share the fate of Kerensky, the menshevik and social revolutionaries in Russia."

The war minister charged Lenine with having ruined his own country and said it was natural he should wish "to have all other nations reduced to the same level of misery, in order that his own carnage may be covered in the general chaos," wrote Churchill.

"Lenine destroyed the Russian republic. He dissolved the Russian parliament. He had the bulk of its members hunted down and killed. He has robbed his country of victory peace and freedom."

Fruit Prospects in Okanagan Valley

In a summary of the Okanagan Valley fruit crop conditions made by officials of the Provincial Horticultural Department it is stated that present indications are that the entire valley will run about 75 percent of last year's crop.

It is anticipated that the leading apple varieties will run about as follows, compared with 1919: McIntosh, 90 percent; Wealthies, 60; Delicious, 140; Winesaps, 120; Newtons, 60; Jonathans, 60; Duchess, 90; Bananas, 100; Wagners, 70; Hyslops, 80. The growth conditions are said to be excellent and the growth is well advanced.

"Got to Live by the Sea"

Earl Beatty on Vital Factor of Sea Power

"We came into being by the sea. By the sea we have existed and in the future we have got to live by the sea."

These were Earl Beatty's stirring words in returning thanks at Glasgow for the hospitality of the city. The navy, he declared, asked for critism, they were not afraid of criticism, but they asked that it should not be destructive, but constructive. (Applause.) The task in front of those who administered the navy at the present day was a great one, and he laid down the doctrine that sea power today was an essential for the security and prosperity of the Empire as it ever was. The navy had been named the "Silent Service" because to say anything was not opportune. But today it was opportune. The fleet in commission today represented the minimum compatible with superiority and supremacy of the seas. There were critics who said we must have ships which could disappear under the surface one minute and be lost in the clouds the next. (Laughter.) He dared say those critics were right, but the time for such ships was not, and he disagreed with the statement that the day of the capital ship had passed. The capital ship was still the unit on which the sea power of the Empire was built. Nothing had been devised by the critics, outside of a few windy paragraphs in the newspapers to take the place of the capital ships. There was no reason, added Earl Beatty, why one, joining the service as a boy, should not rise to premier rank. He urged that the navy must continue to be the connecting link between the Mother Country and the Overseas Dominions, and said that, unless we controlled the seas, we could not control the lines of communication with those Dominions. Once those lines went, goodbye to the Empire.

A Land of Opportunity

Canada is A Most Attractive Land to The Immigrant

In an article on Canada as a land of opportunity, the Manchester Guardian points out that never in her history has Canada been a more attractive land to the immigrant with political ideals. "Her growing sense of nationhood, no less than her fresh outlook on her internal problems," the Guardian says "offers to a man of independent mind and democratic outlook a real hope of shaping things as he would wish in a new country. And above all her needs in importance is that of immigrants of the right stamp, men with the character and the fortitude to settle her great empty spaces that yield so rich a return to those who will dare and tame them, men who appreciate a country where needless social distinctions go by the board, and where the dignity of labor is more than a phrase."

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done with such difficulty.

Pasture for Poultry

Must Have Green Sod or Growing Crop to Range On

Good pasture for growing chickens is as necessary as good pastures for growing pigs and calves. One is often asked, 'How many hens can I keep on an acre of ground?' or "I have five acres for poultry; how many hens can I keep?" "You may keep your laying flocks in small yards and if you have good houses you may even be able to do without any yards at all, and get probably just as good results. For your breeding flocks it is just as well to provide yards or ranges, if possible, though they may be confined with good results; but your growing stock must have room, and plenty of it.

Not only must they have room, but they must have green sod or some kind of green growing crop to range on. A large barren range is not much better than no run at all; they should have shade, but this is not so important as room, and especially green grass or crops. You may grow chicks on the range year after year if the range is large enough, or if the crop you have growing there holds up under constant ranging; but it is much better if possible to change the ranges from one place to another every year or two.

Skin Diseases in Fowl

Often Caused by Uncleanliness And Improper Feeding

There is no greater encouragement to the breeding of animalculae which infect the skin of fowls than uncleanliness, not only in the condition of the houses and runs, but also in the neglect to supply the aid to cleanliness—the dust bath. Not an expensive luxury surely, and yet a most essential one. All that is needed is a grocer's box kept well filled in a dry place with nice dry ashes, in which a little black sulphur has been mixed. Improper feeding, owing to its direct action on the blood, is also conducive to skin disease. To ensure good health all poultrykeepers should give a daily supply of succulent vegetables, such as greens, clover chaff, and swedes and other fleshy roots.

If diseased birds can be isolated and kept in a warm place there is no more effective remedy than flowers of sulphur (obtainable at any druggists) mixed in a hot morning food, while Epsom salts are very useful, and may be given twice a week, dissolved in boiling water, and poured over the soft food, the birds being well sheltered. For outward treatment sulphur ointment, well rubbed in, is probably the best treatment.

Women as Inventors

Women Have Been Taking Out Patents Steadily Since 1790

Women are generally considered to be lacking in inventive ability. The truth is that they have been taking out patents steadily since 1790. It must be confessed that these ideas have not always turned out a complete success, but then, the world has progressed as the result of many mistakes other than those of inventors. How few women ever realized as they ply their crochet needles that it was a Scotch woman, Christian Shaw, the daughter of the Laird of Balgarran, in Renfrewshire, who was the first to produce linen thread, as far back as 1739; her idea was developed later by the big Paisley firm of Clark and Coats.

Silk weaving was invented by the wife of the fourth Emperor of China, in the dim ages of antiquity; a woman in the harem of an Indian prince invented the weaving of cashmere shawls; the same clever woman or her mother (authorities differ on the point) discovered attar of roses, while a poor Italian woman rediscovered the secret of Venetian point lace, which had been lost for nearly 600 years. Madame Curie's triumph as the discoverer of radium is still fresh in the public mind, as is that of Dr. Maria Montessori, whose novel methods are likely to revolutionize the art of teaching in the near future.

Alberta Coal

Estimated to Have A Million Tons In the Province

Alberta runs Nova Scotia closely in coal production, and is far ahead of British Columbia. In 1918 the tonnage produced was: Alberta, 5,972,000 tons; B. C. 2,568,000 tons; Nova Scotia, 5,818,000 tons. The values were: Nova Scotia, $21,095,000; Alberta, $20,537,000; B. C. $11,429,000

In 1919 Nova Scotia produced 5,702,000 tons, valued at $21,970,000; Alberta produced 4,983,000 tons, valued at $18,186,000; B. C. produced 2,429,000 tons valued at $12,315,000.

Canada produced 13¼ million tons in 1919, and imported 40 million tons from the United States. Alberta is estimated to a have a million million tons of coal.

How to Shock Grain

Two General Methods Which Are Followed According to Conditions

As one travels over the country during harvest time, one begins to believe that grain shocking under the present conditions is not as effective as it used to be. This is due probably to two causes. One reason is the shortage of labor, and the other is the use of inexperienced help. There are two general methods of shocking which are common; one the six or eight bundle shock with a cap, in which all the bundles are set as compactly as possible, and the other the forming of a rick. The first method is more suitable where the grain is dry at the time of shocking and where rains are expected later. The second method is suitable where grain is somewhat wet at the time of shocking or where there is not much danger of a heavy rain while the grain is in the shock.

For Manitoba Highways

Manitoba to Receive Federal Grant of $80,000 for Good Roads

The Manitoba provincial treasury will this year be partly relieved of the burden of providing good roads in Manitoba, according to Hon. Geo. A. Grierson, minister of public works. Federal legislation which becomes effective provides that the federal government shall give the province a flat grant of $80,000 for construction of roads, and bear the burden of 40 percent. of roads constructed. It is stated, however, that the flat grant is included in the percentage quoted. An official request for this assistance will be made by the provincial government in the immediate future.

Under the present provincial legislation the government bears 50 percent of the cost of construction in market roads and sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the cost of construction on provincial highways. In both cases, however, it is required that the roads be gravelled. One of the stipulations on which federal government pays 40 percent of the cost is that the particular road construction work on which this has been paid must be submitted for approval to the federal board set up under the act.

Lignite Briquetting Plant

Hoped That it Will Reduce the Cost Of Fuel for the West

An increase of $200,000 has been granted by the federal Saskatchewan and Manitoba governments to the lignite utilization board, giving the board a total of $600,000 for the construction of a lignite briquetting plant at Estevan. The plant is being constructed and will demonstrate the commercial feasibility of converting lignite into briquettes. If the experiment is a success it will materially reduce the cost of fuel and power in the western provinces. The board has had some difficulty in securing a satisfactory binder, but believes it has a solution in coal tar pitch blended with waste straw.

Trend of the Times

What Western Cities are Doing in The Building Line

Comparison is a mighty good guide from which to judge the trend of the times.

A comparison of the building activities in the Prairie cities point to an optimistic viewpoint and a belief that the present cost of building is not only justified but is not likely to make any rapid decline.

January 1st to May 31st

City	1919	1920
Calgary	$1,076,800	$1,245,500
Edmonton	128,775	1,396,725
Regina	453,760	1,273,650
Winnipeg	475,750	4,190,000

In Winnipeg, building permits for June, as at June 28th were approximately $1,700,000, as against $22,900 for 1919.

A very good percentage of this wonderful increase is for individual homes, of which thousands are being erected.

Approximately 600 houses and 14 schools will be built in Winnipeg in 1920. This is but an indication that is prevalent throughout Western cities of own "your own home" and "build now" idea.

Make it an individual question to settle with yourself. Are you a renter—in a home—a suite? Why not catch that "Build Now" spirit. Own your own home.

All lumber dealers are fully equipped to render every assistance. Free plans —working drawings and every co-operation is being rendered by the lumber dealers for promoting the "Build Now" idea.

A young man who could not get up enough courage to pop the question to his girl mailed a proposal. He got a postal card in reply, briefly stating "Fetch on your preacher."

A Foe to Asthma. Give Asthma half a chance and it gains ground rapidly. But give it repeated treatments of Dr. J. D. Kellog's Asthma Remedy and it will fall back even faster. Recruiting for Militia

Training Camps to be Established in All Parts of Canada

Reorganization of the militia forces of the Dominion is proceeding satisfactorily at present insofar as the selection of commanding and other officers is concerned, according to officials of the headquarters staff. It is not expected, however, that a great deal will be done in the way of recruiting before September. Then, it is expected, recruiting will get off to a good start, in view of the arrangements which have been made to train at local headquarters by city corps and some artillery and machine gun units.

By next summer, when it is fully expected that training camps will be established in all parts of Canada on a pre-war basis, it is believed that the various authorized regiments and other military units, will, without difficulty, be brought up to full strength.

Immigration in Canada

Every Allied and Neutral Country in Europe Represented by Newcomers

European immigrants are now passing through Montreal by the thousand, bound for the Canadian West, where great numbers of them will take up land. In addition to the British Isles, every allied and neutral country is represented by the newcomers. Every steamer arriving in the St. Lawrence is full to overflowing, and the class of the new Canadian settler was never higher. The vessels of one steamship company handled alone, 26,126 passengers in two months, and of this total 15,350 avowed their intention of settling in the Dominion. A few days ago a party of 65 stalwart Dutchmen, passed through Montreal bound for Alberta, where they are taking farms. The majority of them were accompanied by their families, the industrious, careful households of rural Holland, and the party represented among them capital to the extent of $80,000. Every one of these sturdy Dutchmen had spent his entire life farming in Holland, and in addition to being a staunch, honest type, the party represented a wealth of experience in many lines of agriculture.

Many Stowaways

A Montreal paper states that the Shipping Federation at the present time is being put to a great deal of trouble through the number of stowaways coming to Canada on boats from Liverpool and Glasgow. During the past month there have been more men arrested for being stowaways than during the entire shipping season of last year.

Experts have estimated that 20,000-000 tons of paper pulp can be produced each year from India's bamboos and grasses.

To Send Many New Settlers

Soldier Settlement Board Agents Meet With Good Success In Campaign

Messrs W. F. Scott and Russell Wilson, who have been in the British Isles, acting as a selection committee of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada, have returned to Ottawa. They held 83 sessions in many parts of Great Britain and Ireland, and a large numbers of men who wish to settle on farms in Canada appeared before them. The number of individuals that Canada will get as immigrants through their efforts, is 629, and many of them are already in preliminary training on farms in Canada. The work has been suspended for this year. Half of those selected have had experience in farming, and all will be required to spend the prescribed time on Canadian farms before being settled on their own account. The aggregate capital represented by this advance party is approximately a million dollars.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired or depressed, it is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Missionary Murdered

Rev. Wm. Reimert, of New Tripoli, Penna., missionary to China, was murdered by revolutionary soldiers of the empire, while preparing to protect the women and children of his station, according to a letter from Marion Firor, station secretary at Yochow city, Hunan, to Dr. Allen R. Bartholomew, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Reformed Church in the United States.

Kindness to Animals

Carelessness At the Bottom of Much Of the Cruelty Practised

Kindness to animals is indicative of a human's ability to be kind to his fellow man; and man's kindness to his fellow man comprehends the true expression of the moral laws which alone can save the world. There is no need for such a drive as recently, which seeks to foster the spirit of kindness to the animal world; and yet, unhappily, there is great need for it. Carelessness, rather than downright brutality lies at the bottom of much of the cruelty practised upon the wild beasts and even upon the wild animals which are forced to unwonted tasks for the gain of the man at the point of goad and the lash of whip. The man or woman who is kind to animals will always be found to be charitable to his or her own kind.—Buffalo Commercial.

Mental Fatigue

Caused by Monotony, Not by the Amount of Brainwork

It is not the exercise of the brain for long hours that causes fag, but the monotony of the work, says the Buffalo Express. Almost every judge, lawyer and doctor whose practice has risen to a point where it keeps him busy has found it admirable to cultivate some such hobby as bridge or chess or to turn his mind in leisure hours to reading that is not light and breezy, but that is real exercise for the mind. The essential is that it be something as different as possible from the mental work with which he gains his daily bread.

The writer knows a middle-aged man, who, after a long day of severe brain work, finds rest and recreation in spending the evening studying scholastic philosophy.

Most doctors teach that physical exercise will take away the ill effect of overdoing mental work, but Dr. Josefa Ioteyko, a Roumanian practising in Paris, has just published a book on fatigue in which he sets forth the opposite view, i.e., that physical exercise will increase brain fag.

Of course, the real cure for mental fatigue is sleep.

Fatigue comes more quickly to the untrained mind or body. The practised oarsman or pedestrian does not soon tire, nor does the expert accountant's brain reel, after adding up long columns of figures with an accuracy and speed that rivals that of a machine.

Who has not noticed on returning from a holiday that the work is difficult, that he makes more errors, that he cannot concentrate? It is really that the mind is out of practice.

The ease with which corns and warts can be removed by Holloway's Corn Cure is its strongest recommendation. It seldom fails.

Craze for Big Cities

Quality Often Counts for More Than Quantity

The craze for bigness seems insatiable. In the United States they have been talking a great deal about the size of New York and boasted it had surpassed London and is now the largest city in the world.

However the latest census returns show that New York city had in January last a population of 5,621,151, an increase of nearly 18 percent over the figure for 1910, but the American metropolis is still below London's population.

According to the latest census returns, London, England, had a population in 1917 of 6,273,753 or about 600,000 more than New York; other large cities are Paris, with 2,588,999; Chicago, 2,721,000; Tokio, 2,332,000; Berlin, 2,071,000; Vienna, 2,031,000; Petrograd, 1,908,000; Philadelphia, 1,735,000; Moscow, 1,481,000; Constantinople, 1,300,000; Calcutta, 1,222,000; Rio de Janeiro, 1,130,000; Buenos Ayres, 1,026,000; and Peking, 1,000,000.

One wonders how much happier the citizens of these large cities are than they would be if they lived in cities with but one-third of the population. We have been too prone to worship the god of bigness; forgetting that "In small measures life may perfect be."

Papa Would do Instead

Little boy at seaside: "Can I have a ride on a donkey, ma?"

Mother; "No, dear. Your papa says you are not to have one."

Boy: "Why can't I have a ride on a donkey, ma?"

Mother (to her husband): "Oh, for goodness sake, James, give him a ride on your back, and see if that'll keep him quiet!"

Navy Reduced to Point of Prudence

Earl Beatty, receiving the freedom of Sheffield, said that with the disappearance of the German fleet they were released from the burden of competitive building, but they must bear in mind that the day would come when veteran ships must be replaced, and under the present financial conditions very little would cost a great deal. The navy, he said, was now reduced to the lowest limits consistent with prudence.

World's Biggest Chinaman

Served Three Years in France in the Chinese Labor Corps

Sergeant Ting-u-Wang is the biggest Chinaman in the world, and one of the earth's tallest men. Wang, who is twenty years old, stands seven and a half feet in his socks and is built in proportion. He served three years in France as a coolie in the Chinese Labor Corps. Most of the time he acted as escort to the German prisoners as they were moved back from the front lines. He never lost a prisoner, his enormous size and strength striking terror in the hearts of the captives. When peace came Wang hoped to be engaged as a bodyguard to some rich European or American, but no such individual apparently needing his services he decided to go back to his farm in Manchuria.

Gottschlitch gave a report on "Young Peoples Convention at Edmonton, after which a Junior Club was organized, Mr. James Reid, Jr. was elected as president; Miss Nora Burton, Vice-President; Miss Erma Gottschlitch, Secretary-Treasurer. We wish them the best of success. After the club was formed, supper and ice cream was served. The Young People then indulged in singing and it can be said that everybody had a good time. Next meeting of the U. F. W.A. will be held at Mrs. Crooker's on the third Wednesday in August.

Rain is badly needed in this immediate vicinity. While showers have been plentiful close around, there is a strip here that seems to be hoodooed this season. Taken as a whole, the crop in the Lacombe district will be a fair one this year, and there will be lots of feed. Reports from the north country are to the effect that a wonderful crop will be harvested.

Barney Halpin of the Western Globe staff is spending a short vacation at Gull Lake.

Miss Eleanor Heric of Wetaskiwin is visiting with Miss Freddie Halpin at Gull Lake.

The first race of the series for the Malcolmson and Lakeview Cups was sailed on Sunday last. The race was well contested, but on account of unsteady and veering wind, the trip round the course was not made in the alloted time, and the race will not be counted. Emery's boat crossed the line first.

One of Lacombe's dairy breeders' J. Boden, of Dalmeny Stock Farm, four miles west of Lacombe is at present out on a circuit with his Ayrshires. So far he has been fortunate in securing 15 firsts, 4 secondt, 1 third, also Female Champion, and Junior Male Championship; also both Grand Championships at Brandon; 16 firsts 3 seconds 2 thirds and all Championships at Regina. 12 firsts, 5 seconds, 4 thirds, 1 fourth, and female championship at Saskatoon. He also sold his all round champion cow, Moss Rose; to R. C. Gillis of Clover Bar for $600. The demand for dairy cattle is so great that Mr. Boden is unable to fill orders. It pays to raise pure bred stock of the right kind.

Remember—On August 15th, The Western Globe subscription will be advanced to $2.00 per year. Until that date subscriptions will be taken at the old rate. We are forced to make this advance to keep up with the constantly advancing price of paper, which is going up every day. Three years ago we paid 4c. per lb. for our news print paper, and this morning inferior stock is costing us 15c. per lb. The cheapest paper we get these days is $1.00 bills.

On With The Dance

New York is made glitteringly attractive even in the scenes portrayed its wickedness in "On With The Dance," the picture at the Rex Theatre on Friday and Saturday this week. Seldom has a more colorful photoplay been offered screen lovers. In the brilliant scenes in Broadway cabarets, the luxurious apartments of the rich, and the myriad-lighted skyline of the great city, a dazzling spectacle has been filmed.

The story brings to the front the excellent dramatic talents of Mae Murray, the erstwhile dancer of the Follies, and now a screen player of more than ordinary charm and ability, and the suave and affable David Powell. The plot concerns a Russian immigrant girl, selfish and pleasure-loving, who, suddenly injected into the atmosphere of New York "high-life," at first yields to the temptations of easy money that are offered here on every hand, but later in a big crisis redeems herself.

"On with the Dance" is described as the first personally produced picture bearing the name of George Fitzmaurice. It is a meritorious effort. The scenario adapted from Michael Morton's stage play, was written by Ouida Bergere. It is a Paramount picture.

Canada's Interest In World Conditions

Six years have elapsed since Germany threw down the gauntlet to civilization and embarked upon her mad enterprise to dominate the world. Almost two years have passed since the signing of the armistice by which Germany acknowledged a humiliating defeat and made an abject surrender.

Yet the world is still in a state of political upheaval, with battles raging on many fronts and a state of war existant between nations of millions of people. Russia and Poland are at war; Greece and Turkey are still fighting, with the Greek armies advancing right into the heart of Turkey in Europe; British, French, Belgian and United States armies are yet in occupation of a large part of Germany; large bodies of British and French troops are constantly on guard in Mesopotamia and Syria. A recent visitor to Greece reports that martial law still prevails there, and that all the old war regulations and restrictions are in full force, and that thousands of Greeks are in the army who have been there since 1912 and cannot get out. The United States is still technically at war with Germany and Austria.

Are these things of any vital interest to Canada, and have they any bearing upon Canadian conditions? Most decidedly so. As long as such unsettled conditions exist, there is an ever present danger of a spark starting a general conflagration, and Canada, as a member of the League of Nations, has a duty to perform to the world and may conceivably be drawn into any new struggle.

That danger may be remote, but there is a phase of general world conditions, especially in Europe and Asia, which is affecting the welfare of the people of Canada every day, whether they are fully conscious of it or not. Millions of men still in uniform means millions of men drawn from productive work of all kinds, and an enormous strain upon the financial resources of all nations to maintain them and to keep the civilian population at home, their dependents, from starvation.

Such a condition throws upon all other countries, like Canada, the burden of the task of feeding and supplying the world with necessities. So long as the work of production remains so much smaller than the demand for goods produced, the era of shortage and high prices must continue. It means a continued inflation of credit with all the evils that flow therefrom. It means that when the time of final readjustment comes there is increased danger of a panic which will shake the financial and industrial world to its very foundations.

Canada is interested in this situation. As a nation it is interested in endeavoring to the full extent of its powers and resources to meet the world demand for food and necessities of all kinds. It is a duty it owes to suffering mankind, but it is likewise an opportunity which should not be lost to secure a large share of the world's trade. The development of a large export trade is one of Canada's economic needs, and the present opportunity for such development should not be disregarded.

Canadians, as individuals, should likewise be interested in the prevailing world situation, and all that it may portend for the future. The present is a time when not only should each individual be putting forward a maximum effort in their own, the Dominion's and the World's interests, but it is a time when the individual should earnestly strive to conserve the results of their labor and lay an adequate provision against the time when a "slump" will occur, industry be less active and remunerative than it is now, and the whole financial situation be "lightened up."

A general cry of "extravagance" is raised all round which is somewhat misleading. Undoubtedly a certain proportion of the population has enjoyed an increase in income in recent years more than sufficient to meet the increased cost of living, and they have been indulging in the purchase of luxuries. This increased demand for luxuries has led to a great demand for labor to produce such luxuries, and such labor has been drafted from industries primarily devoted to the production of necessities. For example, tens of thousand of skilled artisans formerly engaged in the manufacture of articles of actual necessity are now manufacturing automobiles by the thousand. As an inevitable result conditions are created which bear hardly on the less well-to-do.

The lesson for Canada is to get back as quickly as possible to essentials; to curtail the production and purchase of luxuries and to speed up on essential necessities. In the second place, it will be the part of wisdom for the individual Canadian to conserve his earnings as far as possible, to save and thereby serve, not only his country, but himself.

Australia's First German Capture

Pilot Who Captured the First German Boat for Australia

Pilot Easton, who went from Melbourne to New Zealand to join H. M. S. Renown, which carried the Prince of Wales to the Antipodes, is a well-known figure in Australia. He figures in a war story which has just been released by the censorship. Some days after war broke out a big German steamer from Hamburg, which had no wireless, was signaled off the Melbourne Heads, and Easton went out to her and brought her in. He said nothing to the German captain about the war. When the ship was inside, off Portsea, and Easton could see a naval launch approaching, said to the captain, 'We'll have to half-speed here.". The German, who knew the port well, asked, "Why, pilot, why?" and he fixed an anxious eye on the launch. "Because Britain and Germany are at war," said Easton. The German, furious at being trapped, as he called it, was for turning around again and running for the entrance. But Easton pointed out a fort to him and assured him that the guns there were trained on the steamer. So the German succumbed, but his manner toward Easton was very threatening. Five minutes later the Australian bluejackets scrambled on board. The steamer is now part of Australia's merchant fleet. — Melbourne Argus.

It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warning off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent the dreaded summer complaints. They are an absolute safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm — they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Conditions Will Surely Improve

Farmers Who Stick to the Job Will Come Out Ahead

We are very apt to forget that the things which are happening now were not produced by natural causes, but are a part of the terrible world upheaval we have been going through. The troubled waters cannot become calm again as soon as the storm ceases. The armistice ended the fighting and we are now going through the "rolly" troubled period which follows. The current which has taken and still is taking labor from the farm will just as surely bring it back when the waters settle again. In the meantime the farmer who sticks to the job and keeps pegging along the best he can is going to come out away ahead in the long run. Perhaps for the time being he can make a little more money at something else. How long is he sure that this something is going to last, and when it stops, what then? Perhaps this year he cannot get the help to raise as much as last year. He can be pretty sure, however, that he is going to get good prices for what he does raise. And in the meantime he is sure of a good, comfortable home living for himself and his family amid normal surroundings.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR AUGUST 1

DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM

The ark was a symbol of the presence of God in Israel. It represented God's throne, the place from which he communicated his will to the people through the priest (Ex. 25:22; Psalms 80:1).

I. David's Unsuccessful Attempt to Bring up the Ark (vv.1-5).

This is an example of the wrong way of doing a right thing. That the ark of the Lord of Hosts, the symbol of God's presence, should be brought to the very centre of the nation's life was a decision worthy of all praise. It surely met God's approval. David gathered together the representative men of the nation in order that the movement might be a national one. That David was sincere in this measure cannot be doubted, but he was hasty and inconsiderate. God had expressly decreed that the Kohathites should bear the ark upon their shoulders (Num. 4:14, 15; 18:3). For them to place it even upon a cart was a positive violation of God's commandment. Though David was sincere his sincerity did not atone for disobedience to God's word. The dictum that it matters little what you do, just so you are honest and sincere, is one of the Devil's blackest lies. It mattered much in this case, and always does. David cannot be excused on he groutnd of ignorance, because he had the opportunity to know. God cannot be blamed for man's ignorance when he has given him the law and the ability to understand it.

II. God Vindicates His Law and Holiness.

The people were very joyful as they moved on toward Jerusalem with the ark, but suddenly there was a stop to their jubilant voices and music. At some rough place in the road the oxen stumbled and Uzzah, anxious for the precious freight on his cart, reached forth his hand to steady it. This resulted with his being stricken with death. Ignorance does not make a man immune from the death which is in the touch of a heavily charged electric wire; neither does it in the case of the violation of God's laws. Even those who were designated by the Lord to carry the ark were not allowed to touch it with their hands. Since the ark was God's dwelling place among men, they needed to know that he was holy. God's judgment was severe but not more so than they deserved. This awful visitation of just judgment struck terror to David. Well it might for he was in the path of disobedience. The Lord's presence has no terror for those who obey his word. III. The Ark of God in the House of Obed-Edom (vv. 19-12).

The presence of Jehovah always brings blessings. The homes where God is welcomed are always blessed. Obed-Edom was not better personally than Uzzah and David, but he openly received the Lord and properly related himself to him. What had been death and dread to others was life and blessing to him.

IV. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem With Great Joy (vv. 13-19).

1. Sacrifices offered after going six paces (v. 13). David made the start and when convinced of God's approval he made offerings. These were both burnt and peace offerings, typifying the self-dedication of the offerers and their thanksgiving (I Chron. 16:1).

2. David's great joy (vv. 14, 15). The people joined with him in great shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.

3. Michal's criticism (v. 16). Even though David went to excess in his expression of joy, it was wrong in her to criticize, for God seems to have sanctioned David's rebuke of her (v. 23).

4. The grand celebration (vv. 17-19). As a token of his gratitude to God, David generous treated the people.

5. The King of glory, the Lord Jesus Christ coming (Psalms 24: 7-10).

This was not the psalm composed by David for the occasion of bringing up the ark; that was Psalm 105 (see I. Chron. 16). It is strange that such a suggestion should have been made. The XXIV psalm pictures Christ as the coming and triumphant King. At that time the gates shall open to him and the King of Glory shall come in

Western Tour of Mackenzie King

Opposition Leader to Speak In the Principal Cities

While the details of the itinerary of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, in the western provinces have not been arranged, it is stated that his tour will occupy two months from the time of his departure from Ottawa until his return to the capital.

If present preliminary plans are adhered to, Mr. King will go through to the coast with but little delay, and do most of his speech-making on the return trip. Practically all the larger cities and towns will be covered before the tour terminates, about the middle of November. Subsequently Mr. King expects to do some speaking in the eastern provinces.

The Rolling Stone

Old Saying About the Rolling Stone And the Moss is Thrown in The Discard

Of the many popular fallacies to which the world still clings — and those persons who live a comparatively quiet live are among its most ardent advocates — none is given greater credence than set forth in the proverb which tells us "a rolling stone gathers no moss." To many it seems still as great a truth as it was thought to be when that forgotten sage of long ago noted the smoothness of the stones tumbled by the surf along Hellenic shores, and like the objects from which he drew his figure, set the saying rolling down the centuries.

And then one of these long pitied rolling stones crossed an ocean and discovered America. And a little more than two months of rolling to the West, he gathered more moss than all the rest of the world had picked up in as many centuries. Followed the Pilgrim Fathers to gather still more moss or, or as Washington Irving has observed, to completely controvert the time-honored proverb.

Since that day a great portion of the world's peoples have been busy rolling, proving the utter fallacy of the saying. Today half the globe is awheel gathering moss. Yet the warning lives on, is frequently quoted, largely believed in. But was it not ever fallacious? For, whether we interpret "moss" to can tangible riches or pleasure's treasure; whether we paraphrase it to mean "gold" or "thoughts," the rolling stone has at all times and in all places had his reward. Indeed it was a stroll along the seashore—a more or less pretentious departure from his abode—that caused that father of the proverb to first voice his thoughts.— Christian Science Monitor.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: — "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Farmer Not A Proletarian

It is an interesting fact, although the recent Socialist convention at New York contained eighteen editors, seventeen skilled mechanics, twelve lawyers and twelve printers, there was only one of the 156 delegates who was a farmer. Socialism is a city dweller's dream. The farmer is not, and can hardly become, a proletariat. —Youth's Companion.

Prince of Wales Is "A Good Sport"

Happy Incidents on His Western Trip are Recited

"Westward with the Prince of Wales," by W. Douglas Newton, is an intensely human record of a memorable journey. There is a wealth of detail which, as it concerns the most popular character in Great Britain, cannot be looked upon as mere literary padding. The Prince's sporting and athletic proclivities seem to have been the chief source of his great reception and popularity in the "West," and Mr. Newton enables us to see His Royal Highness as an angler, a baseball pitcher and as a "broncho" rider.

As an angler, the Prince did not meet with much success, on account of the lateness of the season, and the man who caught the most fish was not an expert angler, being none other than the official photographer, who was vastly pleased, not to say amused, when His Royal Highness said to him: "Look here, don't you realize I'm the one to do that? You're taking my place in the programme?"

Greater success seems to have crowned the Prince's initiation into the mysteris of baseball. At Edmonton he took part in an inter-local team, and the author relates:

"Walking to the diamond, he equipped himself in authentic manner with floppy, jockey-peaked cap and a ruthless glance, took his stand as a pitcher, and delivered two balls. I don't know whether they were stingers or swizzers, or whatever the syncopated phraseology of the game dubs them, but they were matters of great admiration.

"Having led to the undoing (I hope, for that was his task) of someone, the Prince then joined the audience. He chose not the best seats but the popular ones, for he sat on the grass among the 'bleachers,' and when one has sat out of the shade in the hot prairie sun, one knows what 'bleachers' means. This sporting little interlude was immensely popular, and the Prince left Edmonton with the reputation of being a true 'fan' and 'a real good feller.'"

Perhaps the most sporting and popular of the Prince's athletic achievements, not only from the point of view of the "west," but also from that of his own country, was his riding of a "broncho." Apropos of this incident, Mr. Newton states:

"Saskatoon, the distributing city for the middle of Saskatchewan, was to give the Prince a memorable day. It was here that he obtained his first insight into the life and excitements of the cowboy.

"The Prince arrived in the town at noon, and drove through the streets to the park and university grounds for the reception ceremonies. Upon his arrival at the ground, 'cattlemen' rode before the Prince on bucking horses that, loosed from wooden cages, came along the track like things compact of india-rubber and violence as they strove to throw the leech-like men in furry riding-caps and loose shirts who rode them.

"A very thrilling and varied entertainment was closed by the Prince himself. Walking over to the crowd of 'cattlemen' he stood talking with them and examining their horses. Presently, on the invitation of the 'leader' he mounted a 'broncho,' and leading the bunch of cowboys and cowgirls, swept down the track and past the stand. The people, delighted at this unexpected (and unrehearsed) act, vented themselves in the usual way, that is, with extraordinary enthusiasm."

Learning to Save

Millionaire Speaks of the Joy of Getting Ahead

Persons who have never practised thrift will find that the first $100 they save is the most difficult part of the undertaking, says W. S. Strauss, a millionaire many times over. After they have reached this amount they begin to reap the mental and financial benefits of their economy. They find themselves stronger and more easily able to resist the temptation to squander money. They begin to feel the joy of getting ahead. They gain a sense of stability and moral courage which was not theirs before. They realize that at last they are on the right road. They are headed in the right direction. They are on their way to happiness and success.

Home Teaching

Parents Should Strive to Impart Own Knowledge to Their Children

It is the privilege, the duty of all fathers and mothers to give their offspring the benefit of what they consider most worth while in their own life experience.

If the parent should attempt to avoid his duty in this matter he would but leave to other persons, perhaps totally unqualified for the task, the moulding of his child's opinions and beliefs.

Beyond doubt the radical agitators would like to have the children of the nation deprived of the home teaching, which they find an impassable bulwark against their own poisonous propaganda.—New York Evening Sun.

Airplane as Carrier Of Disease

Could Easily Carry Insect Pests From Place to Place

Whoever would have imagined that the aeroplane would be attacked as a possible carrier of disease? Yet this is just what Professor H. Maxwell Lefroy did in a lecture at the Royal Institution (London). He says that the greatest carrier of pest-carrying insects was the aeroplane, which picked up insects, landed in a field, and deposited them, all within a few hours. The aeroplane was truly the disseminator of crop pests. During Dr. Chalmers Mitchell's flying trip through Africa, his aeroplane, while on the ground, had been attacked by white ants. The aeroplane could easily pick up the yellow fever breeding mosquito and bring it to another land within the space of a few hours. Tsetse fly, which engendered the African sleeping sickness, could be taken from West Africa to Brazil in a few hours. Among the insects the most to be dreaded was the chinch-bug, which in 1864 caused a loss of $74,000,000 worth of wheat.

Within Sight of the Day

Almost Within Sight of the Day When we Shall Import Foodstuffs

I wouldn't be surprised to see every automobile factory in this country closed in a year or two; also, every other factory devoted to the manufacture of luxuries. We are rapidly approaching a time when those willing to work must devote their time to necessities. The most conservative and intelligent observers say we are almost within sight of the day when we shall be compelled to import foodstuffs or starve. The present era of extravagance, high wages everywhere except on farms, and short hours, actually means that the people of the United States have started in on a big propaganda to starve themselves.—Howe's Monthly.

DELICIOUS and ECONOMICAL

To Postpone Referendum Vote In Ontario

Ottawa.—On account of representations made through various organizations in Ontario, the government has decided to postpone the date for holding the referendum vote in the province of Ottario, until Monday, April 18, 1921, in order to permit of a revision of the Ontario provincial voters' list.

The date originally set for taking the vote in Ontario was October 25 next. The present postponement has become necessary in order that Ontario voters' lists may be thoroughly revised and brought up-to-date before the vote is taken.

By the legislation passed by the house of commons on June 28, last special provision was made for the taking of the referendum vote in Ontario, as there were in that province existing provincial voters' lists which had been prepared and used in the provincial election of October, 1919. It was therefore provided in the Franchise act that provincial voters' lists of 1919 in the province of Ontario should be used without revision for any vote in that province taken before Dec. 1, 1920. This provision applied solely to Ontario because parliament felt that the lists in Ontario were so recent that it would be both unnecessary and unwise to go to the expense of revision. However, it has now been pointed out that the provincial lists in Ontario are by no means satisfactory and that if they are used for the purpose of the referendum vote the result may be the disqualification of a very large number of electors, and particularly of returned soldiers. Various organizations in Ontario have objected to the use of these lists for the referendmu vote without revision.

Immediately after the passage of the act, in June last, the Dominion alliance passed a formal resolution of protest against the use of the Ontario provincial lists without revision.

Crime in the North

Mounted Police Will Make A Long Trip to Investigate Report

Ottawa. —Information has filtered through to Ottawa from the barren reaches of the frozen north of an alleged murder on the shores of the Hudson Bay. Meagre though the information is, constables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will make the long journey to the scene to bring in the alleged criminals.

According to the story received here the story of the crime was passed by word of mouth from one tribue of natives to another until it came to the ears of the policemen in one of their isolated outposts.

The standing of the parties now is as follows: Liberals, 29; Farmers, 7; Labor, 5; Conservatives, 2. Total, 43. Majority for government, 15.

SINN FEIN STATE TERMS ON WHICH PEACE CAN BE MADE

Dublin.—"Permanent peace can be arranged between Ireland and England on the basis of England explicitly accepting the first condition of peace laid down by President Wilson in New York on September 27, 1918, on the issues of the Great War," said Arthur Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, in discussing the Freeman's Journal suggestion that Ireland is ready to accept Dominion Home Rule. "In that speech, President Wilson said: 'The military powers of no nation shall be suffered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force.'

"Peace on that basis," continued Mr. Griffiths, "was arranged after a prolonged conflict between Switzerland and France by the treaty of Fribourg in 1516 — that peace has since endured.

"The suggestion of the Freeman's Journal is more kite-flying. It speaks for nobody but itself. The Dail Eirean has elected delegates of the Irish people, willing to negotiate with England on equal terms, but it does not intend to be tricked as so often in the past. Eamonn De Valera has said the Sinn Fein would negotiate with England along the lines of the first section of the Platt amendment regarding Cuba. In fact, once free, it would be to Ireland's interests to be on friendly terms with England, her best customer. Had Ireland been independent in the late war she would have sided with England, because if England had been defeated it would have been Ireland's turn next. However, we are now a free nation, with our parliament and our courts in being.

Mr. Griffiths said Viscount French Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, gave the whole policy of Great Britain away when he declared in January that the trouble was due to restricted emigration, which had left in Ireland 200,000 young men. "We have shown these young men," Mr. Griffiths continued, "it was their duty to remain and fight for freedom for which Ireland has made more prowess in the last five years than in the previous 100 years. England proposes severe measures, she cannot do worse than she already has done, and what has it availed her?"

Mr. Griffiths characterized Premier Lloyd George's refusal to allow Archibishop Mannix, of Australia, to land in Ireland, as fine propaganda for the Sinn Fein, because he said it would enhance interest in their cause in America and in Australia and other British Dominions. "He will get a great reception when he comes,' said Mr. Griffiths. "But he will be preaching to the converted. At the recent elections it was shown that the people were united regarding the republic."

Employment Increase

Reports From 5,100 Employers Indicate That Industries Are In Good Shape

Ottawa.—Reports from over 5,100 employees to the Dominion headquarters of the department of labor employment service indicate that, disregarding loss of time due to the strikes, there was another increase in the volume of employment during the week ending June 26. For the following week, however, there was a net decrease in staffs of 140 persons, or two percent. The decline was attributed mainly to be estimated curtailment of operations in the iron and steel group of industries because of a shortage of fuel. In comparison with the returns for six months earlier, in the year the firms reporting stated that they had made very considerable additions to the number of persons on their payroll.

Winnipeg.—Caroline Jackson, who came to Winnipeg recently from Minneapolis with Wayne W. Dunlop and married him here, has pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy. The charge was made by her husband, Frank C. Jackson, of Minneapolis, who followed the couple to Winnipeg. Judgment in the case was reserved until Friday.

Counsel for Mrs. Jackson and the counsel representing Mr. Jackson urged the court to grant the woman suspended sentence and allow her to return to the United States.

Paris Waiting for Turks

Peace Will be Signed If the Italo-Greek Controversy Is Patched Up

Paris.—If the Turkish delegates are not detained on their journey from Constantinople and arrive in time, it is probable that the peace treaty with Turkey will be signed at Sevres as planned. There is a possibility, however, that Greece may withold her signature from the treaty because of the controversy between Italy and Greece over the recent Aegian wrangle. The belief is expressed in the French official circles that the Italo-Greek controversy would be settled in time for signing.

The difficulty that loomed largely this evening was the fact that the Turkish delegates had not put in an appearance and that its whereabouts did not appear to be known. The delegation appeared to have left Bucharest on a train that should have brought it to Paris. Nothing has been heard of the Turkish plenipotentiaries, however, since the report of their departure from the Rumanian capital.

It sunk almost immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Wemyss are none the worse for their experience.

An Enemy of Canada

Baron Von Alvensleben, Former Resident of B. C. Again in Limelight

Ottawa.— Although Canada is no long at war with Germany, a prominent former resident of British Columbia in the person of Alvon Von Alvensleben, more commonly known as Baron Von Albensleben, has been officially declared to be an enemy of the Dominion. A proclamation to this effect will appear in the Canada Gazette. It describes the Baron as a German nationalist and one who is still regarded as an enemy within the meaning of the sub-section of the peace treaty, under which the allied governments took the right to so declare certain individual Germans.

Baron Von Alvensleven cut a somewhat prominenet figure on the Pacific coast in pre-war days and was believed to be the personal representative in Canada of the kaiser.

Early Harvest in Manitoba

Expect Cutting Will be General By Second Week in August

Winnipeg.—Harvesting in Manitoba this year promises to be general by August 10 or 12, according to reports received from widely scattered points in the province. This date is slightly in advance of normal.

Government reports indicate very little damage at this time from grasshoppers in the southwestern section of the province.

Preparations for supplying the demand for farm labor to handle the crop are being made by the provincial employment bureau and it is not anticipated that there will be any shortage in the supply of harvesters. It is estimated here that 30,000 men will supply the labor requirements of the three prairie provinces, and if enough men are not in sight in eastern Canada it is probable that excursions will be run from British Columbia.

Bandits Fight to Death

Two Alleged Bandits and Two Of Sheriff's Posse Shot

Jackson, Mich. — Deputy Sheriff Harry Worden was instantly killed, Deputy Sheriff Kut was wounded and two alleged bandits were shot in a gun fight between a sheriff's posse and a band of robbers who had held up and looted the Farmers State Bank at Grass Lake, 12 miles east of here. Six men, five of whom are said to have been members of the bandit gang, were captured following a fight in a marsh.

The robbers were captured when surrounded in a summer cottage. The loot, consisting of about $10,000 in cash and bonds, was recovered.

No Bonus for Industries

Prairies Cannot Hope for Manufacturing Until Population Grows

Quebec.— The twentieth anniversary of Canadian municipalities, in session here went on record as opposing bonuses by municipalities as an inducement to industries to establish plants.

J. D. Saunders, city clerk, of Camrose, Alta., and secretary of the Union of Municipalities, spoke on the recent progress of western municipalities. During his speech he said that until the west has a population commensurate with its vast areas, there is no use of talking of establishing industries. J. N. Bayne, of Saskatchewan, discussing the bonus question, remarked that if firms were not strong enough to stand on their own feet without the aid of bonuses they should not look for help from the municipalities.

Alderman Dickson of Montreal, expressed his opposition to the bonus system. A firm which could not do business without a bonus was not worth much, he stated.

Big Returns from Fisheries

The June Sea Fish Catch is Worth Millions

Ottawa.—Although the total catch of sea fish in Canada during the month of June was 22,104 cwts. less than June 1919, its total value was $567,518 greater. The monthly statement issued from the fisheries branch of the marine department shows that the total catch of sea fish in Canada during June of the present year was 832,020 cwts., as compared with 855,020 cwts. in June last year. The total value of the June catch at the point of landing this year was $3,586,776, as against $3,019,250 in June 1919.

The Coal Shortage

Consumers are Urged to Get in A Supply at Once

Saskatoon. — Fearing that if the winter's supply of coal is not shipped during the next month it never will be, the Saskatoon board of trade is sending telegrams to every board of trade in Saskatchewan urging that immediate steps be taken to get the supply.

Thomas Reynolds, president of the boards of trade of Saskatchewan, stated that with the prospect of a heavy wheat crop, every available freight car will be in use at the beginning of September. That will mean that freight will be tied up.

Further, there is no doubt that the freight rates are going to go higher than they are now and getting coal now will mean a saving.

May Change The Peace Treaty With Turkey

Paris.—A possible alteration in the Turkish peace treaty was discussed among the allied representatives owing to the controversy between Italy and Greece over the Dodeckanese archipelago in the Aegean.

This dispute has reached a point where the government of each country is refusing to sign the Turkish treaty unless the other will cede its claim to the islands. Both premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand are advising Italy to sign at an open convention to the secret agreement reached between Italy and Greece on July 29, 1919, under which the islands, with the exception of the island of Rhodes, would go immediately into the possession of Greece. (This arrangement originally contemplated compensation for Italy by concessions in Asia Minor. The present Italian government, however, has objected to these concessions as not up to the original expectations of Italy, it is understood).

In consequence of this situation, the allied governments are exchanging views as to whether the article in the Turkish treaty allotting the islands to Italy shall now be rewritten so as to provide in substance that Turkey renounces her interests in the islands, they to be disposed of by agreement among the powers, to be reached later.

It is also announced that the department has broken up several attempts to form what is known as an opium ring in this country.

It is also intended to put the Opium and Narcotic Drug act, passed at the last session into force on or about September next. Under this act, which constitutes one of Canada's obligations under the Versailles treaty, and which puts the Dominion in line with the rest of the nations uniting to stamp out the drug evil, all wholesale druggists, manufacturers or dealers are required to obtain a license to deal in these drugs for which an annual fee is charged. All retail druggists who manufacture narcotic drugs or preparations containing the same, are required to obtain a ficense also. All druggists, other than those who manufacture and every physician, veterinary surgeon and dentist is required to make a declaration that they are engaged in the sale or distribution of these drugs.

Prize Winners at Lacombe Eair, 1920

Last week all Lacombe, including the farmers of the surrounding district for a radius of many miles, turned out in full force to celebrate the twenty-seventh annual fair. The weather was ideal, the crowds large and combined with the optimistic spirit developed by the prospects for a bumper harvest all helped to make the fair a success. Although the entries of livestock were not as large as last year the high class of stock shown was a real credit to the farmers of the district, for what they lacked in numbers was well made up by quality. A large percentage of the stock shown is owned by local breeders, and this did much to increase interest in the exhibition.

The attendance was very large, far more than could be accommodated in the grandstand and bleachers, and the class of attractions offered generally speaking were very good in spite of the fact that there was no midway. Throughout the afternoon and evening a very creditable exhibition of aeroplane stunting was put on by two of Capt. McCall's planes. There were also a number of good horse races and baseball games and the Vanbuskirk Bros. "Skinny" and "Slim" livened up things generally between events. The Red Deer band was in attendance.

The judging of heavy horses and cattle was completed Friday afternoon. In horses the entries were fairly large and the competition was beter than in any other class of livestock. A. Webster of Lacombe won first in the aged Clydesdale stallion class in competition against Vanstone and Rogers of North Battleford and John Lang of Lacombe, who took second and third place. Webster's stallion is a thick heavy set horse with lots of quality and of the type that is being sought after. Webster also took first for stallion one year old, while John Laing took first in the three year old class. In the class for dry brood mares, James Bowden with a classy looking mare was awarded first over two very good horses entered by P. Winters of Lacombe and A. Webster.

The Class of Aged Percheron

Stallions were quite good. Vanstone and Rogers with their showy steel grey horse were awarded first. Monarch, another of their horses was awarded third, while the second prize went to J. O. Coverdale of Lacombe. Coverdale's stallion is a showy black with good legs.

In Shires the competition was only fair, and the majority of the awards went to R. McKenzie of Lacombe. J. M. Southward had two drafty looking dry brood mares, and in this class won first and third prize, the second money being awarded to R. McKenzie.

Angus Entries Largest

In the cattle exhibits the largest number of entries in any breed were in the Aberdeen Angus. In this breed C. H. Richardson of Bowden and E. A. and E. S. Clemens of Sedgewick were the only exhibitors and divided the prize money fairly evenly. Clemens' aged bull also took first in the aged bull class. This is an exceptionally thick type of Aberdeen Angus in good show form. Their two year old bull also took first in his class. In the yearling bull class, however, the first money went to an exceptionally well developed calf with lots of quality belonging to Richardson, while the second and third prizes were awarded to Clemens.

There were three very good entries in the two year old heifer class. Richardson was awarded first and Clemens second and third.

Herefords

P. M. Ballentyne of Lacombe had the bulk of the entries in Herefords, Bob McKenzie, also of Lacombe, being his only competitor, and as the later only had a few animals Ballentyne had things mostly his own way. Ballentyne was also awarded the special prize donated by the Hereford Breeders' Association.

Shorthorn Class Small

The shorthorns were not a very strong class. John Laing and Robert Scott, both of Lacombe, were the principal exhibitors and neither had heavy entries. Scott had no bulls. However he had some outstanding females. Laing came out first in cows, Scott taking first in heifers and the female championship. Laing took first in herds.

In Ayrshires James Bowden and D. A. Bowden were the only exhibitors and fairly evenly divided the prize money. In Holsteins there was less competition. G. E. White with his herd took six firsts and the championships, W. H. Ashley coming second in cows. In Jerseys C. H. Hand of Stetler took all the awards excepting first for cow, which went to Glen Fosnough.

Good Display of Grades

The display of grade horses and cattle, especially that of horses, was very creditable and the competition was very keen. In the heavy draft H. Magilton took first in the class for team to wagon, with a drafty looking pair of the type that farmers are looking for, and John Southward second. P. G. Morrison, R. McKenzie and A. Webster also had entries in grades. There was also a large number of entries in the agricultural class, and the competition was as good as, if not better than in the heavy draft.
